Frog's Bright Idea

TEACHTOWN
Exceptional Solutions for Exceptional Students

Frog's Bright Idea

Adapted from the original work of Ranjeet Kaur

Illustrated by Partho Sengupta

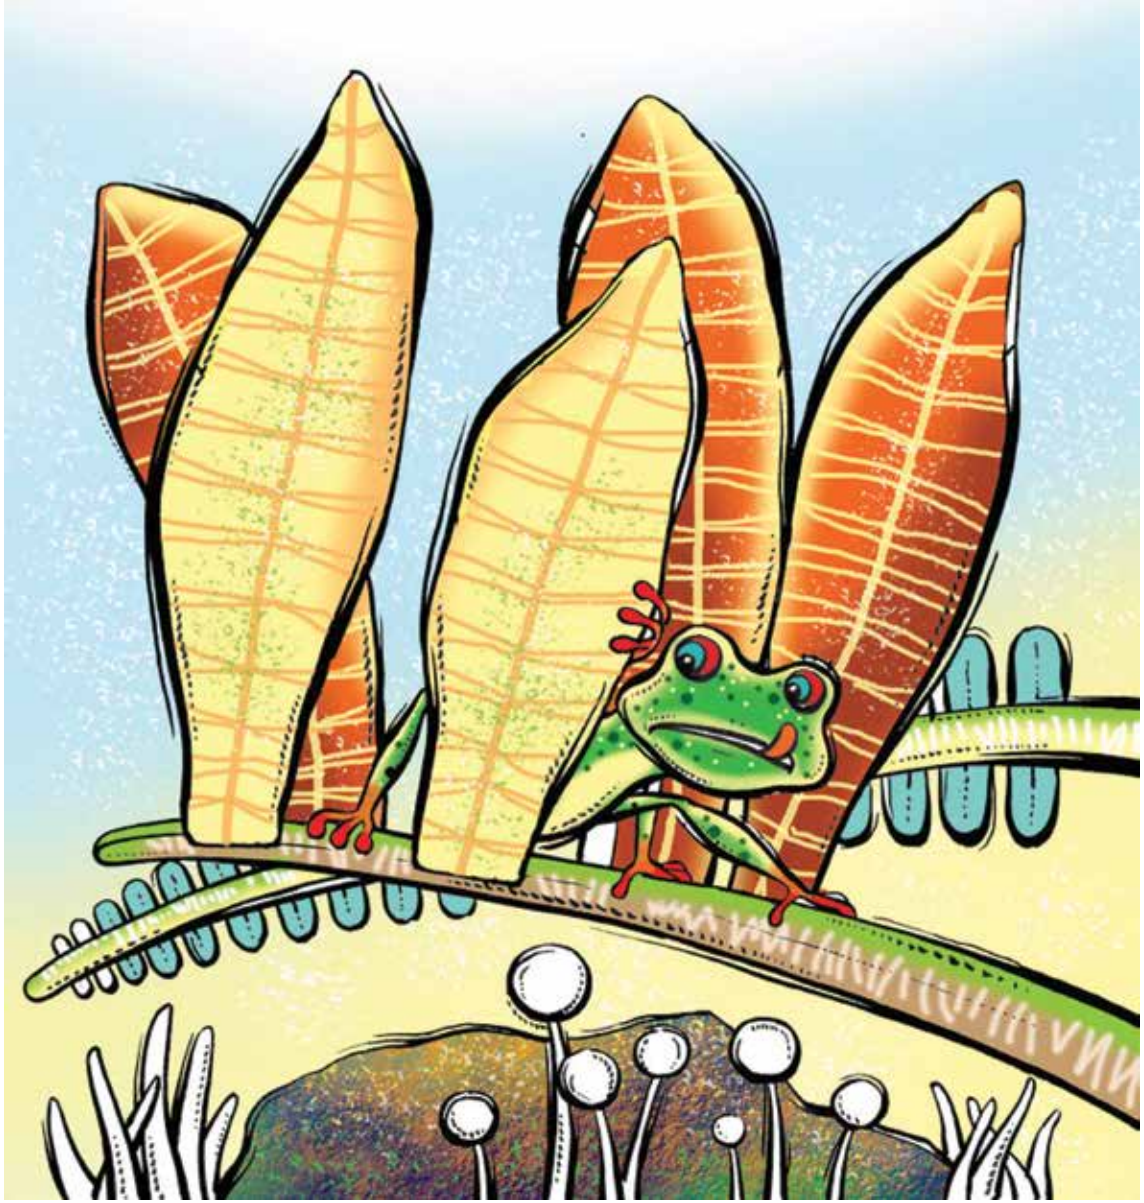
www.teachtown.com

This story is an adaptation of (with the original illustrations from): Frog's Bright Idea (English), written by Ranjeet Kaur, illustrated by Partho Sengupta, translated by Magdalena Cooper, published by Room to Read (©Room to Read, 2015) released under a CC BY 4.0 license on StoryWeaver.
www.storyweaver.org.in

Frog was hungry!



"I wish I had food today," he said.

“I wish I could eat those bugs!” he said.

"I need to catch those bugs," said Frog.

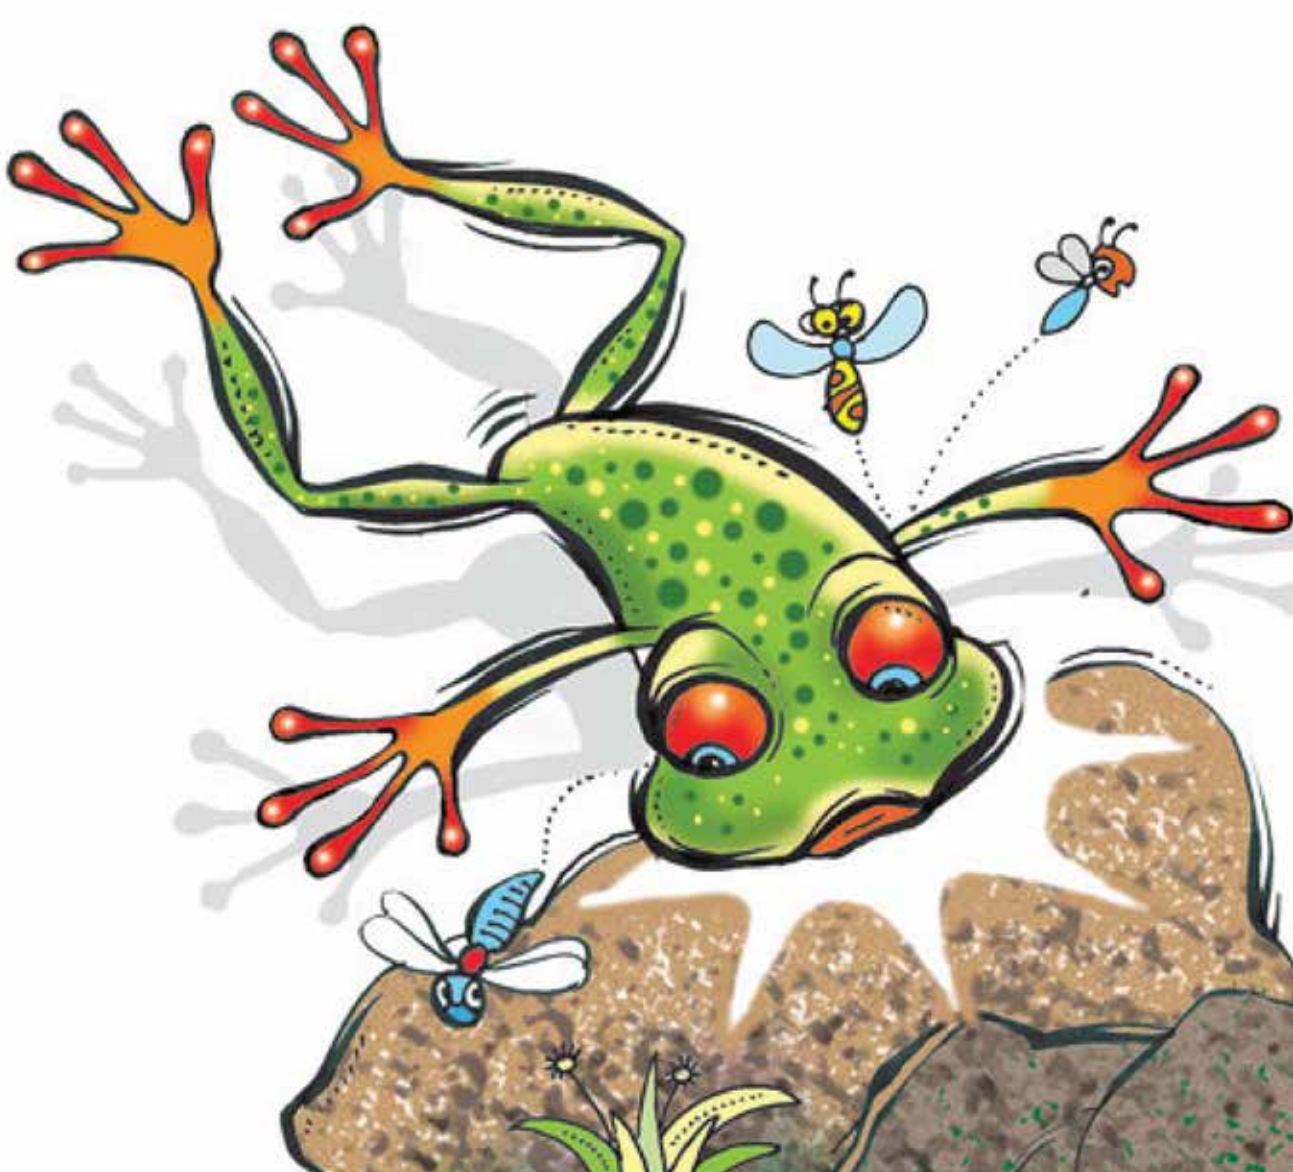
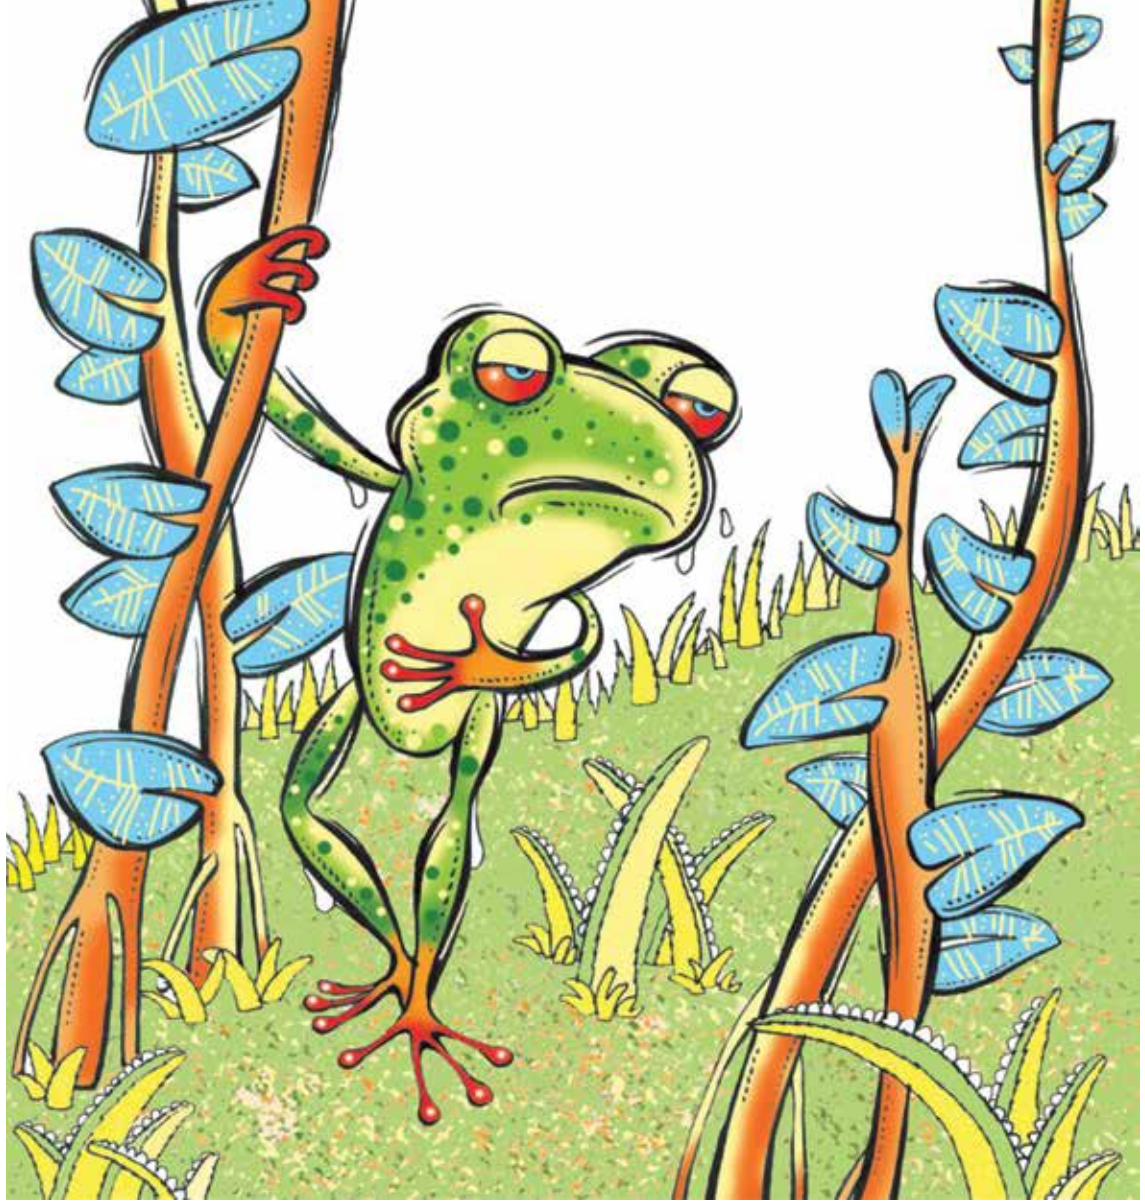
The bugs were too far away.

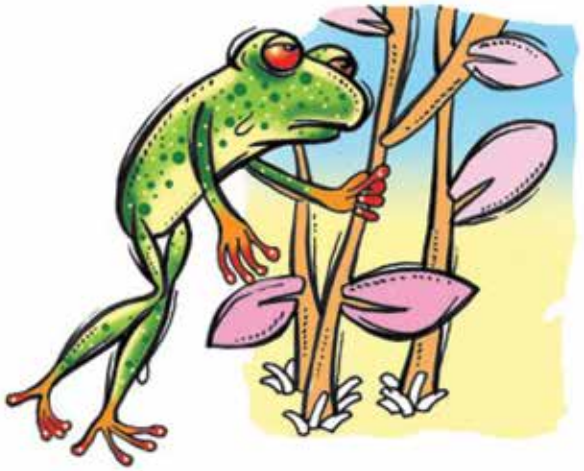
X

He could not catch any bugs today!





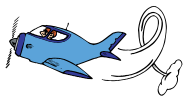
After all that jumping, he was even more hungry.



“How will I catch the bugs?” he asked.

Then he saw a light shining far away.

The light was from a candle.

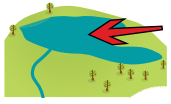


Bugs were flying all around the light!

“Time to eat!” said Frog.

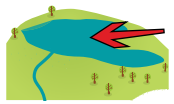
The next day, Frog got a candle. “This is how

I will catch my dinner today!” said Frog.



He lit the candle at the edge of the pond.

“I wish my friends were here,” said Frog.



All of Frog's friends brought candles to the pond.

Bugs came from near and far!

All the frogs ate in the light of the candles.

Copyright © 2020 Teachtown