Re: South Sumter High School HOSA

South Sumter High's HOSA (Future Health Professionals) students attended the State Leadership Conference in Orlando at the beginning of April. They represented Sumter County and SSHS well at this conference. All of Sumter's attendees did an outstanding job and represented their school and the district well. School Superintendent Rick Shirley said, "Our Sumter students and great staff can compete with anyone at any level- and have proved it once again! We wish them the best of luck at the International Conference where they will compete against the best in the world!"

Congratulations to Destiny Barnes and Naomi Reed who placed in their event and qualified for the International Leadership Conference in Houston, Texas this summer.

Sumter is proud of these students and sponsors and their dedication to their school, county, and HOSA chapter.
